DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on March 23, 2007 has been entered.
2. Claims 1, 3-6, 8-14 and 16-19 are pending in the present application. Claims 2, 7 and 15 have been cancelled; and claims 1, 6, 12, 14 and 17 have been amended.

Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to because Figures 2a and 2b overlap. Note there is no clear distinction between Figure 2a and Figure 2b. Also, Figure 2b contains partial views. See 37 CFR 1.84(h). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

4. INFORMATION ON HOW TO EFFECT DRAWING CHANGES

Replacement Drawing Sheets

Drawing changes must be made by presenting replacement sheets which incorporate the desired changes and which comply with 37 CFR 1.84. An explanation of the changes made must be presented either in the drawing amendments section, or remarks, section of the amendment paper. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). A replacement sheet must include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of the amended drawing(s) must not be labeled as "amended." If the changes to the drawing figure(s) are not accepted by the examiner, applicant will be notified of any required corrective action in the next Office action. No further drawing submission will be required, unless applicant is notified.

Identifying indicia, if provided, should include the title of the invention, inventor's name, and application number, or docket number (if any) if an application number has not been assigned to the application. If this information is provided, it must be placed on the front of each sheet and within the top margin.

Annotated Drawing Sheets

A marked-up copy of any amended drawing figure, including annotations indicating the changes made, may be submitted or required by the examiner. The annotated drawing sheet(s) must be clearly labeled as "Annotated Sheet" and must be presented in the amendment or remarks section that explains the change(s) to the drawings.

Timing of Corrections

Applicant is required to submit acceptable corrected drawings within the time period set in the Office action. See 37 CFR 1.85(a). Failure to take corrective action within the set period will result in ABANDONMENT of the application.

If corrected drawings are required in a Notice of Allowability (PTOL-37), the new drawings MUST be filed within the THREE MONTH shortened statutory period set for reply in the "Notice of Allowability." Extensions of time may NOT be obtained under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 for filing the corrected drawings after the mailing of a Notice of Allowability.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1, 3-6, 8-14 and 16-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boroumand et al. US Patent Application Publication No.

2002/0156870 A1 in view of Henricksen Adapting the Web Interface: an Adaptive Web Browser.

Regarding claim 1, Boroumand et al. teaches a method for making it easier to process user specific information at an information processing device, which method uses a network browser installed on said information processing device, which method uses a network browser installed on said information processing device for searching, processing and presenting information, the network browser comprising at least as address field and virtual function keys associated with it, wherein the address field and virtual keys are modified so as to be in accordance with the service used at the time [see: paragraphs 0007, 0014 and 0022], wherein the modification of the address field and virtual keys is based on alphanumeric data input of the user in the network browser address field [note: paragraph 0072-0074; and Figure 6]. Although Boroumand et al. teach the invention substantially as cited above, they do not explicitly teach that the modification of the address field and virtual keys is based on alphanumeric data input of the user. Henricksen et al. teaches an adaptive web browser in which adaptation of the web interface can be designed and implemented in many forms, such as by user input [see: page 21, abstract; section two Adaptation, "Classes of adaptation that can be employed by web browser include, but are not limited to those listed in table 1"; page 22 Table 1 Adaptation Classes; also note sections 2.2 and 2.3 "In order to support a range of device types with varying input output capabilities, as well as different modes of interaction depending on the user's capabilities, preferences and activities, it is necessary for the browser to be capable of dynamically adapting its interface to the context"]. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time of the invention to have combined Henricksen et al. with Boroumand et al. because Henricksen et al. teaches classes of adaptation may be employed by the web browser interface through design to support an increasing range of the web's ability. Henricksen et al. teaches the web must be able to adapt and support a changing network [page 23 section 3.1 HTTP Support for adaptation].

Art Unit: 2168

Regarding claim 3, Boroumand et al. teaches wherein the information processing device is connected via a communications network [see: paragraph 0082].

Regarding claim 4, Boroumand et al. teaches wherein the network browser at the information processing device is used to open a service provider's www page [note: paragraph 0035].

Regarding claim 5, Boroumand et al. teaches wherein the input data fields on the www page are filled out by entering information in the service specific address field [note: paragraph 0014].

Regarding claim 6, Boroumand et al. teaches an address field with associated virtual function keys belonging to a network browser installed at an information processing device [note: paragraphs 0072-0074; Figure 6].

Regarding claim 8, Boroumand et al. teaches wherein said service used is one of the following: telephone service, calculator, payment, information search [note: paragraphs 0028-0030; Figure 1].

Regarding claim 9, Boroumand et al. teaches the virtual keys of the network browser are modified so as to make the use of the service easier [note: paragraph 0035].

Art Unit: 2168

Regarding claim 10, Boroumand et al. teaches computer code for realizing a network browser according to claim 6 at an information processing device [note: paragraph 0031].

Regarding claim 11, Boroumand et al. teaches computer code for realizing a network browser according to claim 10 at an information processing device [note: paragraph 0031; and paragraphs 0039-0040].

Regarding claim 12, Boroumand et al. teaches a www page server connected to a communications network ... [note: paragraphs 0039-0043, 0072-0074 and Figure 6].

Regarding claim 13, Boroumand et al. teaches wherein the address field and virtual function keys associated with the www page are arranged to be modified ... [note; paragraph 0051].

Regarding claim 14, Boroumand et al. teaches a communications network terminal [see: paragraphs 0022, 0050, 0100, 0101, 0106, and 0072-0074; Figure 6].

Regarding claim 16, Boroumand et al. teaches which is a terminal of a cellular network [note; paragraph 0029-0030, 0038 and 0106].

Art Unit: 2168

Regarding claim 17, Boroumand et al. teaches a display [0105], processor [0101], a browser software application [note; paragraphs 0031-0032, 0104, 0028-0030, 0066-0064; Figure 6].

Regarding claim 18, Boroumand et al. teaches wherein the entry of the address occurs through a user typing in the address in the address input field [note; paragraphs 0028-0030; Figure 6].

Regarding claim 19, Boroumand et al. teaches wherein the plurality of services comprises telephone service ... [note; paragraphs 0028-0030; Figure 1].

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3-6, 8-14 and 16-19 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. In the response Applicant argued Boroumand et al. does not teach modification of the address field based on alphanumeric data input of the user in the network. In response to Applicant's argument note newly cited reference Henricksen et al. combined with Boroumand et al. supra.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
